

Hamilton Advancement Digital Services Privacy Policy

Last modified: _____, 2026

Introduction

Hamilton College (“Hamilton” or “we”) respect your privacy and are committed to protecting it through our compliance with this policy. This Privacy Policy (“Policy”) describes:

- The types of information we may collect or that you may provide when you download, install, create an account on, access, or use the Hamilton College Advancement: Salesforce Experience Cloud Mobile Go Application or portal website (collectively the “Advancement Digital Services”).
- Our practices for collecting, using, maintaining, protecting, and disclosing that information.

This Policy applies only to information we collect via the Advancement Digital Services and in email, text, and other electronic communications sent through or in connection with the Advancement Digital Services. If you are located within the European Union and are looking for more information, please visit our GDPR Privacy Notices at: \(Hamilton College GDPR Privacy page\).

This policy DOES NOT apply to information that:

- We collect offline or on any other Hamilton apps or websites, including websites you may access through the Advancement Digital Services.
- You provide to or is collected by any third party, including other apps, websites, or content that may link to or be accessible from or through the Advancement Digital Services.

Our other websites and apps, and these other third parties may have their own privacy policies that govern your access to and use of such websites and applications, which we encourage you to read before providing information on or through them.

Please read this Policy carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your information and how we will treat it. If you do not agree with our policies and practices, do not download, create an account, or use the Advancement Digital Services. By downloading, creating an account, or using the Advancement Digital Services, you agree to this privacy policy and our [Terms of Use \[URL\]](#), incorporated herein by reference. This Policy may change from time to time (see Changes to Our Privacy Policy). Your continued use of the Advancement Digital Services after we revise this Policy means you accept those changes, so please check the Policy periodically for updates.

Children Under the Age of 13

The Advancement Digital Services are not intended for children under 13 years of age. No one under age 13 may provide any information from children under 13. We do not knowingly collect personal information from children under 13. If you are under 13, do not use or provide any information on the Advancement Digital Services or through any of the features, create an account, or provide any information about yourself to us, including your name, address, telephone number, email address, or any screen name or username you may use. If we learn we have collected or received personal information from a child under 13 without verification of parental consent, we will delete that information. If you believe we might have any information from or about a child under 13, please contact us.

Information We Collect and How We Collect It

We collect information from and about users of our Advancement Digital Services:

- Directly from you when you provide it to us.
- Automatically when you use the Advancement Digital Services.
- From our internal records related to your time at Hamilton.
- From publicly available sources.

Information You Provide to Us

When you download, create an account, or use the Advancement Digital Services, we may ask you provide information:

- By which you may be personally identified, such as name, address, email address, telephone number, account credentials, graduation and post-graduation information, employment information, location information (if enabled), profile photo (if enabled and shared), or any other information by which you share that may be considered personal information under applicable law (“personal information”).

This information includes:

- Information that you provide by completing webforms via the Advancement Digital Services. This includes information provided at the time of creating an account and posting information.
- Records and copies of your correspondence (including email addresses and phone numbers), if you contact us.
- Your responses to surveys or other inquiries that we might ask you to complete.
- Your search queries in the Digital Advancement Services.

Information We Collect Through Automatic Data Collection Technologies

As you navigate through and interact with our Advancement Digital Services, including when you download, access, or use the application, we may use automatic data collection technologies to collect certain information about your device and your browsing and usage activity and patterns, including:

- Usage Details. When you access and use the Advancement Digital Services, we may automatically collect certain details of your access to and use of the services, including traffic data, location data, logs, and other communication data and the resources that you access and use on or through the Advancement Digital Services.

- Device Information. We may collect information about your device and internet connection, including the device's unique device identifier, IP address, operating system, browser type, mobile network information, and the device's telephone number.
- Stored Information and Files. The Advancement Digital Services also may access metadata and other information associated with other files stored on your device. This may include, for example, photographs, audio and video clips, personal contacts, and address book information, if you enable such access.
- Location Information. This Advancement Digital Services collects real-time information about the location of your device, if you enable such access.

If you do not want us to collect this information, do not download the Advancement Digital Services, delete it from your device, or do not enable certain features (like location services or photo sharing). For more information, see Your Choices About Our Collection, Use, and Disclosure of Your Information. However, please note that opting out of the collection of location information will disable its location-based features.

The technologies we use for automatic information collection may include:

- Cookies are small files placed on your device that allow us to recognize your browser and store preferences or settings. We use cookies to enhance usability, to provide functionality, personalize content, and improve your experience. In addition to our own cookies, as outlined below, third-party providers may place cookies on your device to support analytics, advertising, and other services. Some types of cookies we utilize include:
 - Strictly Necessary Cookies: These cookies are necessary for our Advancement Digital Services functionality and cannot be switched off.
 - Functional Cookies: These cookies enable the Advancement Digital Services to provide enhanced functionality and personalization.
 - Marketing Cookies: are used to support promotional features and measure engagement within the Advancement Digital Services, such as displaying institutional messages or understanding aggregate interaction with campaigns.
- Pixels are small pieces of code embedded on a webpage that help track user interactions, such as page views or clicks. Pixels are often used to measure the effectiveness of advertising and understand user actions via the Advancement Digital Services. Some pixels may be provided by third parties and may allow third-party providers to collect information about your activity for analytics and marketing purposes.
- Analytics may be provided by third-party vendors to analyze traffic and usage. These vendors use cookies and similar technologies to collect information such as your IP address, browser type, and browsing behavior. This information is transmitted to and stored by these vendors on their servers (or those of their subprocessors). They use it to provide us with reports and insights and may share it with other parties where required by law or for their own processing purposes. For example, we utilize Google Analytics, a web analytics website offered by Google that tracks and reports website traffic. Google uses the data collected to track and monitor the use of our Advancement Digital Services website. This data is shared with other Google websites. Google may use the collected data to contextualize and personalize the ads of its own advertising network. You can opt-out of having your activity on the Advancement Digital Services made available to Google Analytics by installing the Google Analytics opt-out browser add-on. The add-on prevents the Google Analytics JavaScript (ga.js, analytics.js and dc.js) from sharing information with Google Analytics about visit activity. For more information about the privacy practices of Google, please visit the Google Privacy Terms web page at <https://policies.google.com/privacy?hl=en>

We may tie non-personal information collected automatically to personal information about you that we collect from other sources or that you provide to us.

By using the Advancement Digital Services, unless you set your browser otherwise, you consent to our use of these technologies as described above.

If you do not want to allow for use of cookies or other technologies (including analytics cookies), you can generally opt-out by setting browsers to reject cookies. You may also disable or delete cookies from your computer or other device at any time. Please be aware that disabling cookies may limit the functionality of the Advancement Digital Services, reduce our ability to provide customized content, and impact on your overall experience when visiting the Advancement Digital Services.

User Generated Content

Some features of our Advancement Digital Services enable users to submit their own content, such as through messaging boards or connecting and messaging with others. You understand and agree that Hamilton may not review, audit, or otherwise verify the accuracy of your data. Please remember that any Personal Information you submit or post as user-generated content in these circumstances could in some cases be seen by others or become public. If you submit such information, you are solely responsible for any information uploaded or entered. You should exercise caution when deciding to disclose your Personal Information in such submissions or posts. We cannot prevent others from using that information in a manner that may violate this Policy or the law. Hamilton is not responsible or liable for any issues that may arise with respect to information provided by you or the results of such posting. You shall not provide any information other than your own or of others without their express consent.

How We Use Your Information

We use information that we collect about you or that you provide to us, including any personal information, to:

- Provide you with the Advancement Digital Services and its contents, and any other information, products, or services that you request from us, including by providing a more personalized experience.
- Improve our Advancement Digital Services.
- Alumni and donor outreach and engagement.
- Marketing and analytics.
- Fulfill any other purpose for which you provide it.
- Give you notices about your account.
- Carry out our obligations and enforce our rights arising from any contracts entered into between you and us
- Notify you when Advancement Digital Services updates are available, and of changes to any products or services we offer or provide through it.
- Feedback purposes.
- Promotional and recruiting purposes, including soliciting financial contributions.

- Statistical and behavioral analysis of online behavior for development purposes.
- Content improvement.
- Content customization.
- To detect, prevent, and address technical issues.
- To prevent and detect criminal and/or fraudulent activity that would be damaging us.
- Legal compliance.
- Other purposes in which we have obtained your consent.

Disclosure of Your Information

We may disclose aggregated information about our users, and information that does not identify any individual or device without restriction.

In addition, we may disclose personal information that we collect or you provide:

- To our subsidiaries and affiliates.
- To contractors, service providers, and other third parties we use to support our business, including, but not limited to, our digital services developers.
- To a buyer or other successor in the event of a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of Hamilton's assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, in which personal information held by Hamilton about our Advancement Digital Services users is among the assets transferred.
- To fulfill the purpose for which you provide it.
- For any other purpose disclosed by us when you provide the information.
- With your consent.

We may also disclose your personal information:

- To comply with any court order, law, or legal process, including to respond to any government or regulatory request.
- To enforce our rights arising from any contracts entered into between you and us, including the Terms of Use [URL].
- If we believe disclosure is necessary or appropriate to protect the rights, property, or safety of Hamilton, our students, alumni, faculty and staff or others.

Choices About How We Use and Disclose Your Information

We strive to provide you with choices regarding the information you provide to us. This section describes mechanisms we provide for you to control certain uses and disclosures of over your information.

- Tracking Technologies. You can set your browser to refuse all or some browser cookies, or to alert you when cookies are being sent. If you disable or refuse cookies or block the use of other tracking technologies, some parts of the Advancement Digital Services may then be inaccessible or not function properly.

- Location Information. You can choose whether or not to allow the Advancement Digital Services to collect and use real-time information about your device's location through the device's privacy settings. If you block the use of location information, some parts of the Advancement Digital Services may become inaccessible or not function properly.
- Promotion by Hamilton. If you do not want us to use your email address or other contact information to promote our own advancement services, you can opt-out by logging into the Advancement Digital Services and adjusting your user preferences in your account profile by checking or unchecking the relevant boxes or by sending us an email.

We do not control third parties' collection or use of your information to serve interest-based advertising. However, these third parties may provide you with ways to choose not to have your information collected or used in this way. You can opt out of receiving targeted ads from members of the Network Advertising Initiative (“NAI”) on the NAI's website.

Accessing and Correcting Your Personal Information and Account

You can review and change your personal information by logging into the Advancement Digital Services and visiting your account profile page. You may also send us an email to request correction to any personal information that you have provided to us. You may also request deletion of your account via your account profile or by emailing us.

Third Party Links

The Advancement Digital Services may contain links to other websites or access to applications, including social media platforms, which are operated by us or third parties. Please be aware that Hamilton is not responsible for the privacy practices of any third party, including any third party with whom it has an affiliation or business relationship. Once you enter those websites from a link from our Advancement Digital Services, our Privacy Policy and Terms of Use do not apply. We do not control and accept no liability or responsibility for those websites and this Privacy Policy does not apply to those websites. Please consult the terms and conditions and privacy policies of those third-party websites to find out how they collect and use your information and to establish whether they use cookies and what they use them for.

Retention

Hamilton retains personal information processed and collected via the Advancement Digital Services for as long as necessary to maintain alumni relations, academic, archiving purposes, and our other legitimate business purposes. Hamilton will process and store your personal information only for the period necessary to achieve the purpose of the storage, or as permitted by law.

Data Security

We have implemented measures designed to secure your information from accidental loss and from unauthorized access, use, alteration, and disclosure. However, the safety and security of your information also depends on you. Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password for access to certain parts of our Advancement Digital Services, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential. We ask you not to share your password with anyone.

Unfortunately, the transmission of information via the internet and mobile platforms is not completely secure. Although we do our best to protect your information, we cannot guarantee the security of your personal information transmitted through via our Advancement Digital Services. Any transmission of personal information is at your own risk. We are not responsible for circumvention of any privacy settings or security measures included through the Advancement Digital Services.

Changes to Our Privacy Policy

We may update our Policy from time to time. We will notify you or any changes by posting the new Privacy Policy.

We will let you know via email and/or other notice prior to any material changes becoming effective and we will update the “Last Modified” date at the top of this Policy.

You are advised to review this Policy periodically for any changes. Changes to this Policy are effective when they are posted on this page.
